Tillable Investment Tract With Prime Hunting Potential

This classic 50/50 blend of tillable and timber offers both strong agricultural income potential and exceptional deer and turkey hunting. Located in an area known for quality whitetails, the property features a diverse habitat mix that supports a thriving wildlife population.

With 115+/- tillable acres, the tract provides steady investment value while maintaining plenty of edge and transition cover to hold deer year-round. The rolling topography, timbered ridges and draws, and a mix of softwoods, mast-producing hardwoods, and pines create ideal food sources and bedding areas.

Strategically placed select-cut timber areas add dense security and bedding cover, further enhancing the property's ability to attract and hold mature bucks. A creek and feeder streams provide a year-round water source, while an established interior access road makes navigating the land easy.

Though secluded with no road frontage, the property is accessible via a deeded easement with utility rights, offering privacy and exclusivity. Whether you're looking for an income-producing investment or a premier hunting retreat, this property checks all the boxes!
